1 I. INTRODUCTION

2 Plaintiff Robyn Cannistra, individually and on behalf of Jordan Cannistra (“Jordan”), as his 3 guardian in fact (“Plaintiff”), hereby opposes the demurrer (“Demurrer”) filed by Defendant Tomás
4 Aragón, in his official capacity as Department of Public Health Director and as the State Public Health
5 Officer (“Defendant Aragón”) against the First Amended Complaint (“FAC”).¹

6 The lawsuit seeks relief that would permit Jordan and similarly situated students to attend 7 California schools, provided they demonstrate immunity to the ten specific childhood illnesses currently 8 required for school admission under Health and Safety Code section 120335.

9 Defendant Aragón and Defendant PCS (collectively “Defendants”) mandate that Jordan be 10 vaccinated rather than immunized from certain diseases, or else be excluded from in-person instruction 11 and participation in extracurricular activities on PCS’s campuses and be coerced into an independent 12 study program. (FAC ¶ 1.)

13 Jordan has proven and documented immunity. (FAC ¶¶ 31-44.) Such full immunity arises from 14 traditional vaccinations, infection, and titer testing.

15 An antibody titer is a laboratory test that measures the level of antibodies in a blood sample, 16 which confirms that a person possesses sufficient antibodies for immunity from a specific virus. Both 17 the University of California system and California State University system recognize titer tests as a valid 18 means of satisfying immunization requirements in lieu of vaccines. For instance, at the University of 19 California, Irvine, titer tests showing immunity are accepted for viruses such as MMR, Varicella, and 20 Tdap. As explicitly stated by California State University, “Titer test records are official immunization 21 records,” providing students an alternative method to demonstrate their immunity. (FAC ¶¶ 25-29.)

22 PCS itself advised Plaintiff that titer tests in lieu of vaccination would be sufficient to satisfy 23 Jordan’s immunization requirements to attend PCS. (FAC ¶ 45.)

24 As a PCS student since kindergarten, the sixth grade is not a vaccination “checkpoint.” (FAC ¶ 25 32.) Jordan has had the same vaccination status since before entering kindergarten. (FAC ¶ 33.) Jordan

26
27
28 ¹ Defendant Petaluma City Schools (“PCS”) has never responded to the FAC, nor has it joined in the Demurrer.

1 has been vaccinated with:

- 2 • Three of four doses of the Polio vaccine
- 3 • Five of five doses of the DTaP vaccine
- 4 • One of two doses of the MMR vaccine
- 5 • Three doses of the Hepatitis B vaccine (FAC ¶ 34)

6 Jordan was previously infected with chicken pox (Varicella) and so has immunity for that disease.
7 (FAC ¶ 35.) Accordingly, Jordan needed to demonstrate immunity for MMR (second dose) and Polio 8 (fourth dose). (FAC ¶ 36.) Jordan underwent titer testing. (FAC ¶ 37.) Jordan’s titer testing confirmed 9 immunity for:

- 10 • MMR (measles, mumps, and rubella)
- 11 • Polio Type 1
- 12 • Polio Type 3 (FAC ¶ 38)

13 The Polio Type 2 titer was not included from the lab. Per the CDC, “Serologic testing for 14 antibodies against poliovirus type 2, an assay that uses live virus, is becoming increasingly unavailable as 15 US laboratories conform to WHO’s laboratory containment strategy to destroy type 2 poliovirus in their 16 facilities, this started in late 2015.” Thus, labs no longer test for Polio Type 2. (FAC ¶ 41.)

17 Moreover, Jordan received the IPV vaccine which covers all three types of Polio. (FAC ¶ 42.)
18 Jordan does not need a second dose of the MMR vaccine or a fourth dose of the Polio vaccine due to his 19 titer-confirmed immunity via positive antibodies to each of the diseases. (FAC ¶ 43.) Jordan is immune 20 to all applicable diseases and therefore poses no risk to anyone at PCS concerning these diseases, and has 21 provided proof of his immunization. (FAC ¶ 44.)

22 Jordan demonstrated his immunity via vaccinations, infection, and titer testing, but Defendants 23 have refused and continue to refuse to recognize Jordan as having the required immunity for in-person 24 attendance at California schools. At the same time, California law permits several categories of 25 schoolchildren to attend public and private schools without any proof of immunity (foster children, 26 homeless children, and military family members’ children) – a double standard without any justification.
27 (FAC ¶ 30.)

28 Defendants refuse to recognize Jordan’s immunized status and seek to enforce their vaccination

1 mandate against Jordan to his grave detriment, including exclusion from in-person instruction and 2 participation in extracurricular activities on PCS’s campuses, and prohibition from entering PCS
3 property for any educational or social purpose. Should Defendants continue not to recognize Jordan’s 4 immunized status, Jordan will suffer irreparable harm including, without limitation, academic, social, 5 and mental health harms. (FAC ¶¶ 61, 72, 83, 93, 98, 128, 138.)

6 By implementing a stringent and discriminatory vaccine mandate – rather than recognizing 7 immunity via titer testing as already recognized by the University of California system and California 8 State University system – Defendants are denying California schoolchildren like Jordan their 9 fundamental right to an education that provides a “general diffusion of knowledge and intelligence 10 essential to the preservation of the rights and liberties of the people” and ensures the opportunity to 11 become proficient according to the state of California’s standards, to develop the skills and capacities 12 necessary to achieve economic and social success in our competitive society, and to participate 13 meaningfully in political and community life. (FAC ¶ 98.)

14 The legal arguments herein confirm that Defendant Aragón’s Demurrer should be overruled in 15 its entirety or, as an alternative, that Plaintiff should be granted leave to amend.

16 II. STANDARD ON DEMURRER

17 “It is ‘black-letter law’ a demurrer tests the pleading alone.” (Gould v. Maryland Sound Indus., 18 Inc. (1995) 31 Cal.App.4th 1137, 1144); see Code Civ. Proc., § 430.30, subd. (b).) “The rules of 19 pleading require, with limited exceptions not applicable here, only general allegations of ultimate fact.
20 [Citations.] The plaintiff need not plead evidentiary facts supporting the allegation of ultimate fact.
21 [Citations.] A pleading is adequate so long as it apprises the defendant of the factual basis for the 22 plaintiff’s claim.” (McKell v. Washington Mutual, Inc. (2006) 142 Cal.App.4th 1457, 1469–1470.) “It 23 is not the ordinary function of a demurrer to test the truth of the plaintiff’s allegations or the accuracy 24 with which he describes the defendant’s conduct. A demurrer tests only the legal sufficiency of the 25 pleading. It admits the truth of all material factual allegations in the complaint; the question of plaintiff’s 26 ability to prove these allegations, or the possible difficulty in making such proof does not concern the 27 reviewing court.” (Quelimane Co. v. Stewart Title Guaranty Co. (1998) 19 Cal.4th 26, 47, internal 28 quotation marks and alterations omitted.) “When any ground for objection to a complaint or cross-

1 complaint does not appear on the face of the pleading, the objection may be taken by answer.” (Code
2 Civ. Proc., § 430.30, subd. (b).) “Defendants cannot set forth allegations of fact in their demurrers 3 which, if true, would defeat plaintiff’s complaint.” (Gould, supra, 31 Cal.App.4th at 1144.) The only 4 exception is for matters of which the court is required to or may take judicial notice. (Id.; see Code Civ.
5 Proc., § 430.30, subd. (a).)

6 Defendant Aragón has requested that the Court take judicial notice of sixteen documents. As 7 explained in Plaintiff’s objection to Defendant Aragón’s request for judicial notice, filed concurrently 8 herewith and incorporated by reference herein, while judicial notice as to the existence of those 9 documents may be appropriate, judicial notice as to the truth of the facts they assert is not. (Unruh- 10 Haxton v. Regents of Univ. of Cal. (2008) 162 Cal.App.4th 343, 365.) “[T]he taking of judicial notice of 11 the official acts of a governmental entity does not in and of itself require acceptance of the truth of 12 factual matters which might be deduced therefrom, since in many instances what is being noticed, and 13 thereby established, is no more than the existence of such acts and not, without supporting evidence, 14 what might factually be associated with or flow therefrom.” (Cruz v. County of Los Angeles (1985) 173 15 Cal.App.3d 1131, 1134.) Because “[a] demurrer is simply not the appropriate procedure for 16 determining the truth of disputed facts,’ [citation], judicial notice of matters upon demurrer will be 17 dispositive only in those instances where there is not or cannot be a factual dispute concerning that 18 which is sought to be judicially noticed.” (Id.) Thus, notwithstanding Defendant Aragón’s citation to 19 “official” state and other publications, this Court cannot take judicial notice of disputed factual matters.

20 The Demurrer should be overruled because it is premised on assumptions, improper conclusions, 21 and disputed facts and because Plaintiff has adequately pleaded her claims.

22 III. ARGUMENT

23 A. Plaintiff’s First, Second, and Third Causes of Action State Claims for Relief.

24 Plaintiff’s First, Second, and Third Causes of Action seek relief under the Health and Safety 25 Code, the California Code of Regulations, and the Education Code. The mandate at issue here – that 26 Jordan be vaccinated rather than immunized (FAC ¶ 1 et seq.) – conflicts with Jordan’s fundamental 27 rights to education as provided by these Codes: admission and attendance at school without forced 28 enrollment in independent study. Applying California’s preemption framework confirms that Plaintiff

1 has adequately pled myriad violations.

2 The California Supreme Court has explained the principle of preemption as follows: “If 3 otherwise valid local legislation conflicts with state law, it is preempted by such law and is void. A 4 conflict exists if the local legislation duplicates, contradicts, or enters an area fully occupied by general
5 law, either expressly or by legislative implication. Local legislation is duplicative of general law when it 6 is coextensive therewith. Similarly, local legislation is ‘contradictory’ to general law when it is inimical 7 thereto.” (Sherwin-Williams Co. v. City of Los Angeles (1993) 4 Cal.4th 893, 897–898, internal citations 8 and quotation marks omitted.) Defendants’ mandate, as specifically implemented by PCS, is 9 “contradictory” and “inimical” to the cited Codes for any or all of the following reasons:

10 First, any refusal by PCS to admit Jordan or allow Jordan’s continued attendance, following 11 CDPH’s revocation of his medical exemption, violates Title 17, Section 6025 of the California Code of 12 Regulations because it excludes him even though Jordan has all the immunizations required by Section 13 6025. (FAC ¶ 69.) Any mandate by Defendants requiring Jordan to be vaccinated rather than 14 immunized violates Section 120335 of the Health and Safety Code and Title 17, Section 6025 of the 15 California Code of Regulations, because such mandate recognizes only vaccination, and not 16 “immunization,” which can be acquired naturally through prior infection and/or evidenced by 17 antibodies. (FAC ¶ 70.) Jordan has a fundamental right to a free public education (FAC ¶ 71), and 18 should Defendants continue not to recognize Jordan’s immunized status, Jordan will suffer irreparable 19 harm (including, without limitation, academic, social, and mental health harms) each day that 20 Defendants exclude Jordan from in-person instruction and participation in extracurricular activities on 21 PCS’s campuses and each day that Defendants prohibit Jordan from entering PCS property for any 22 educational or social purpose. (FAC ¶ 72.)

23 Second, should Jordan not be admitted or allowed to continue attendance, PCS will enroll Jordan 24 in PCS’s independent study program. (FAC ¶ 77.) Under Title 5, Section 11700 of the California Code 25 of Regulations, “Independent study is an optional educational alternative in which no pupil may be 26 required to participate.” (Cal. Code. Regs., tit. 5, § 11700, subd. (d).) (FAC ¶ 78.) Additionally, Title 5, 27 Section 11700 of the California Code of Regulations provides that “a pupil’s ... choice to commence, or 28 to continue in, independent study must not be coerced.” (Cal. Code. Regs., tit. 5, § 11700, subs.

1 (d)(2)(A).) (FAC ¶ 79.) Moreover, “instruction may be provided to the pupil through independent study 2 only if the pupil has the continuing option of classroom instruction.” (Cal. Code. Regs., tit. 5, § 11700, 3 subd.(d)(2)(B).) (FAC ¶ 80.) Defendants’ vaccination policy violates California Code of Regulations, 4 Title 5, Section 11700, because it will lead to the forced and involuntarily enrollment of Jordan in PCS’s 5 independent study program and will require the exclusion of Jordan from any school property within 6 PCS, in-person classes, and extracurricular activities, including sports, at any PCS school, unless Jordan
7 provides proof of vaccination. (FAC ¶ 81.)

8 Third, the Education Code provides that “independent study is an optional educational 9 alternative in which no pupil may be required to participate.” (Ed. Code, § 51747, subd. (f)(8).) (FAC ¶ 10 86.) A school may enroll a child in such a program only if there has been a “pupil-parent-educator 11 conference” to determine whether enrollment in independent study is in the best interest of the child (id., 12 § 51747, subd. (h)(2)) and “a signed written agreement for independent study from the pupil, or the 13 pupil’s parent or legal guardian if the pupil is less than 18 years of age” (id., § 51747, subd. (f)(9)(F)).
14 (FAC ¶ 87.) Additionally, a child enrolled in a remote learning or independent study program cannot be 15 excluded from school facilities. Rather, the school “shall ensure the same access to all existing services 16 and resources in the school in which the pupil is enrolled ... as is available to all other pupils in the 17 school.” (Ed. Code, § 51746.) (FAC ¶ 88.) A child enrolled in an independent study program always 18 retains the option to return to his or her regular classroom for in-person instruction. The school is 19 required to “transition pupils whose families wish to return to in-person instruction from independent 20 study expeditiously, and, in no case, later than five instructional days.” (Ed. Code, § 51747, subd. (f).)
21 (FAC ¶ 89.) Jordan is immune to all applicable diseases and therefore poses no risk to anyone at PCS 22 concerning these diseases, and has provided proof of his immunization. (FAC ¶ 90.) Defendants’ 23 vaccination policy violates Education Code Sections 51746 and 51747 because it will lead to the forced 24 and involuntarily enrollment of Jordan in PCS’s independent study program and will require the 25 exclusion of Jordan from any school property within PCS, in-person classes and extracurricular 26 activities, including sports, at any PCS school, unless Jordan provides proof of vaccination. (FAC ¶ 91.)

27 In addition to Defendants’ mandate being “contradictory” and “inimical” to the cited Codes, the 28 mandate invades a fully occupied field. “[L]ocal legislation enters an area that is fully occupied by

1 general law when the Legislature has expressly manifested its intent to fully occupy the area, or when it 2 has impliedly done so in light of one of the following indicia of intent: (1) the subject matter has been 3 so fully and completely covered by general law as to clearly indicate that it has become exclusively a 4 matter of state concern; (2) the subject matter has been partially covered by general law couched in such 5 terms as to indicate clearly that a paramount state concern will not tolerate further or additional local 6 action; or (3) the subject matter has been partially covered by general law, and the subject is of such a 7 nature that the adverse effect of a local ordinance on the transient citizens of the state outweighs the 8 possible benefit to the locality. (Sherwin-Williams Co., supra, 4 Cal.4th at 898.) Here, state law fully 9 occupies the field of vaccine requirements for school admission.

10 PCS, like all California schools, lacks authority to mandate vaccines requirements in addition to 11 those historically required by state law. The intent of the Legislature to reserve this power to itself and 12 only to state health authorities is clear: “The control of smallpox is under the direction of the State 13 Department of Health Services, and no rule or regulation on the subject of vaccination shall be adopted 14 by school or local health authorities.” (Ed. Code, § 49405, emphasis added.)

15 The Legislature’s intent to establish a statewide standard for school vaccinations is confirmed by 16 the legislative history. For example, the authors of SB 277, the current version of the state’s school 17 vaccine statute, stated in the Senate Judiciary Committee report that the purpose of the legislation is 18 “[t]o provide a statewide standard [that] allows for a consistent policy that can be publicized in a 19 uniform manner, so districts and educational efforts may be enacted with best practices for each 20 district.” Likewise, the Assembly’s health committee report on SB 277 states that vaccine requirements 21 are a matter of state law: “States enact laws or regulations that require children to receive certain 22 vaccines before they enter childcare facilities and school, but with some exceptions, including medical, 23 religious, and philosophical objections.”

24 Besides these explicit statements, there are also numerous indicia within the statutory scheme 25 itself that the Legislature intended to occupy the field. For example, as is clear from the foregoing, “the 26 subject matter has been so fully and completely covered by general law” — right down to the forms that 27 must be used and the establishment of a state vaccination database — “as to clearly indicate that it has 28 become exclusively a matter of state concern.” (Sherwin-Williams, supra, 4 Cal.4th at 898.)

1 Alternatively, if the Court finds that the subject matter has only been “partially covered” by state 2 law, the law is “couched in such terms as to indicate clearly that a paramount state concern will not 3 tolerate further or additional local action.” In particular, the regulations promulgated by CDPH under 4 state law unequivocally direct that schools “shall unconditionally admit or allow continued attendance” 5 to students who have the vaccinations required by state law. (Cal. Code Regs., tit. 17, § 6025, emphasis 6 added.)

7 Finally, assuming the subject matter has only been “partially covered” by state law, “the subject 8 is of such a nature that the adverse effect of a local ordinance on the transient citizens of the state 9 outweighs the possible benefit to the locality.” (Sherwin-Williams, supra, 4 Cal.4th at 898.) As 10 explained in the Assembly health committee report on AB 277, the Legislature has statutorily prescribed 11 a regime of ten childhood vaccinations “after careful consideration of the public health risks of these 12 diseases, cost to the state and health system, communicability, and rates of transmission.” The 13 Legislature has also established an orderly process for the state’s public health agency, CDPH, to add to 14 the list through administrative rulemaking only after “taking into consideration the recommendations of 15 the Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices of the United States Department of Health and 16 Human Services, the American Academy of Pediatrics, and the American Academy of Family 17 Physicians.” (Health & Safety Code § 120335, subd. (b)(11).) Schools also must also recognize 18 medical and personal belief exemptions. (Health & Safety Code, § 120338.)

19 Plaintiff has adequately pled myriad violations by Defendants.

20 B. Plaintiff States a Claim for Violation of the Right to Education.

21 California children have a constitutional right to attend school. (Jackson v. Pasadena City 22 School Dist. (1963) 59 Cal.2d 876, 880; Cal. Const., art. IX, §§ 1, 5.) As discussed in detail, supra, to 23 the extent Defendants’ policies exclude healthy children from school, or force them into inferior 24 independent study programs, children’s constitutional rights are being violated. Plaintiff’s Fourth Cause 25 of Action thus states a claim.

26 C. Plaintiff’s Fifth Cause of Action States a Claim for Violation of the Equal Protection 27 Clause.

28 “A person may not be ... denied equal protection of the laws.” (Cal. Const., art. I, §7, subd. (a).)

1 The California Constitution thus prohibits any governmental actor — including Defendants — from 2 making a law, rule, or regulation that restricts the freedom of one group while other similarly situated 3 group remain unrestricted unless there is a rational basis connected to a legitimate governmental interest 4 sufficient to justify the disparate treatment.

5 i. Defendants Cannot Satisfy Strict Scrutiny.

6 When “the disparate treatment has a real and appreciable impact on a fundamental right of 7 interest,” strict scrutiny applies. (Butt v. State of California (1992) 4 Cal.4th 668, 685–86.) A child’s 8 right to education is one such right or interest: “In view of the importance of education to society and to 9 the individual child, the opportunity to receive the schooling furnished by the state must be made 10 available to all on an equal basis.” (Jackson v. Pasadena City Sch. Dist. (1963) 59 Cal.2d 876, 880.) It 11 is “well settled that the California Constitution makes public education uniquely a fundamental concern 12 of the State....” (Butt, supra, 4 Cal 4th at 685; see also Cal. Const., art. IX, § 5.)

13 Under the strict scrutiny standard, “the governmental entity ‘bears the burden of establishing not 14 only that it has a compelling interest which justifies the law but that the distinctions drawn by the law 15 are necessary to further its purpose.’” (Hartzell v. Connell (1984) 35 Cal. 3d 899, 921, quoting 16 Westbrook v. Mihaly (1970) 2 Cal.3d 765, 785.) The law also “must ‘be narrowly tailored that is, the 17 least restrictive means)’ to promote the compelling interest.” (Snatchko v. Westfield LLC (2010) 187 18 Cal.App.4th 469, 491–492, quoting Kasky v. Nike, Inc. (2002) 27 Cal.4th 939, 952.)

19 Plaintiff alleges that Defendants’ mandate that Jordan be vaccinated rather than immunized 20 places a substantial burden on Jordan’s fundamental constitutional right to education because he is being 21 excluded from school if he is unable to show full vaccination. (FAC ¶¶ 69-72, 77-81, 88-91.)
22 Accordingly, Defendants’ mandates and restrictions must satisfy strict scrutiny.

23 Alas, such mandates cannot survive strict scrutiny. Though Defendants arguably have a 24 compelling interest in slowing the spread of disease, the subject mandate is not narrowly tailored to 25 reduce transmission rates. (FAC ¶ 113-115.) Instead, Jordan is forced to sacrifice his right to an in-26 person education because he cannot get all require vaccines, yet he has confirmed immunity and poses 27 no risk.

28 The distinction made by Defendants between vaccinated and unvaccinated schoolchildren — and

1 even different classes of unvaccinated schoolchildren (i.e., migrant, foster, homeless, and military family 2 members' schoolchildren) — cannot survive strict scrutiny. Naturally acquired immunity has been 3 found to be equal or superior to vaccine-induced immunity. Defendants' preferential treatment of 4 vaccinated individuals and certain classes of unvaccinated individuals discriminates, without 5 justification, against all other unvaccinated individuals, including those with natural immunity. It also 6 creates three classes of schoolchildren: those who have been vaccinated, those who have not been 7 vaccinated but fall within a certain class of schoolchildren subject to preferential treatment, and those 8 schoolchildren who do not fall within one of those classes but have not been vaccinated. (FAC ¶¶ 110, 9 116.)

10 Further, Defendants' mandates treat schoolchildren who have not been vaccinated and are not 11 members of an exempt group as an inferior class, in that those schoolchildren cannot attend the school of 12 their choice within PCS, cannot participate in in-person classes, and cannot enter a school property for 13 any purpose, including extracurricular and other activities, while the schoolchildren who have been 14 vaccinated or are a member of an exempt group are allowed to attend the school of their choice within 15 PCS, to participate in in-person classes, and to enter a school property for extracurricular and other 16 activities. (FAC ¶ 117.)

17 Courts must look at the impact of a law when assessing its constitutionality, not merely the intent 18 behind it. (Cf. City of Santa Monica v. Stewart (2005) 126 Cal. App. 4th 43, 78.) Here, Plaintiff has 19 pleaded facts showing that impact includes learning losses, social losses, and exclusion from school and 20 activities. (FAC ¶¶ 69-72, 77-81, 88-91.) Defendants thus cannot meet their burden to demonstrate that 21 their mandate serves a compelling interest or that it is the least restrictive means to do so.

22 ii. Defendants Cannot Satisfy Rational Basis.

23 “[E]ven in the ordinary equal protection case calling for the most deferential of standards, courts 24 must ascertain the relation between the classification adopted and the object to be attained. The search 25 for the link between classification adopted and the objective gives substance to the Equal Protection 26 Clause.” (People v. Hofsheier (2006) 37 Cal. 4th 1185, 1201, citations omitted.)

27 Defendants' mandate fails rational basis scrutiny for all the reasons state above. As alleged, 28 Naturally acquired immunity has been found to be equal or superior to vaccine-induced immunity.

1 Defendants’ preferential treatment of vaccinated individuals and certain classes of unvaccinated 2 individuals discriminates, without justification, against all other unvaccinated individuals, including 3 those with natural immunity. It also creates three classes of schoolchildren: those who have been 4 vaccinated, those who have not been vaccinated but fall within a certain class of schoolchildren subject 5 to preferential treatment, and those schoolchildren who do not fall within one of those classes but have 6 not been vaccinated. (FAC ¶ 116.)

7 This is the height of irrationality. Plaintiff has sufficiently pleaded that Defendants’ mandate 8 fails even rational basis scrutiny.

9 D. Plaintiff Adequately Alleges Injunctive Relief.

10 The Demurrer only contends that because none of the causes of action are “legally sufficient,” 11 Plaintiff’s request for a temporary restraining order or injunctive relief must also fail. (Demurrer, p. 18, 12 ln. 7.) This Opposition confirms that all of the FAC’s causes of action suffice. Thus, injunctive relief is 13 properly sought and should be ordered.

14 E. Plaintiff Adequately Alleges Declaratory Relief.

15 The Demurrer claims that Plaintiff has not adequately alleged declaratory relief because there are 16 no allegations about actual injury or harm, and without an actual controversy, declaratory relief does not 17 apply. But an authority cited in the Demurrer – Meyer v. Sprint Spectrum L.P. (2009) 45 Cal.4th 634, 18 648 – supports Plaintiff’s request for judicial declarations.

19 The Meyer case held that a demurrer is properly sustained where there are no allegations that the 20 declaratory relief would “have any practical consequences.” Id. at 648. Plaintiff alleges at least six 21 times that Jordan and other similarly situated children “will suffer irreparable harm each day that they 22 are excluded from PCS’s school campuses, whether for in-person instruction, extracurricular activities, 23 or other educational or social purposes.” (FAC ¶¶ 72, 83, 93, 103, 128, 138.)

24 The FAC’s prayer seeks declarations that Defendants’ mandates as alleged herein are null and 25 void as preempted by state law; that Defendants’ mandates as alleged herein are invalid and unlawful; 26 that antibody titer tests be recognized as immunity and be presented in lieu of vaccination records; that 27 antibody titer tests fully support medical exemptions or, in the alternative, that medical exemptions are 28 not necessary when a student has titer tests demonstrating immunity; that Defendants cannot exclude a

1 student with titer tests demonstrating immunity from in-person learning; and that Defendants cannot 2 involuntarily enroll any student in an independent study program.

3 Should the Court make these declarations, concrete “practical consequences” as contemplated by 4 Meyer will follow. Jordan and other similarly situated children will no longer be at risk of suffering the 5 irreparable harm that arises from being excluded from PCS’s campuses. Thus, Plaintiff properly seeks 6 declaratory relief.

7 F. Plaintiff Adequately Seeks a Writ.

8 The FAC seeks a “writ of mandate restraining and preventing Defendants and their officers, 9 agents, or any other persons acting with them or on their behalf from implementing and enforcing a 10 policy that requires vaccination rather than immunity to the exclusion of Jordan from in-person 11 instruction and participation in extracurricular activities on PCS’s campuses and from entering PCS 12 property for any educational or social purpose.” (FAC Prayer (emphasis in original).)

13 The Demurrer claims that the FAC fails to identify a ministerial duty of Defendant Aragón or 14 any abuse of discretion by Defendant Aragón. (Demurrer, p. 20, ln. 11.) But the Demurrer completely 15 misses Plaintiff’s case theory: that Defendants must be restrained and prevented from implementing and 16 enforcing the existing mandate requiring vaccination rather than immunity. This illegal and 17 unconstitutional mandate is precisely the wrongful conduct of Defendant Aragón that a writ corrects.

18 G. PCS Has Failed To Respond To the FAC.

19 Plaintiff’s First through Fifth Causes of Action are alleged against Defendants together. Plaintiff 20 also pleads two of action against PCS alone: a Sixth Cause of Action for Violation of Education Code 21 Section 220 and a Seventh Cause of Action for Violation of Government Code Section 11135. (FAC 22 p.16-18.)

23 Because PCS has failed to respond to the FAC by either answer or demurrer, these two causes of 24 action survive without challenge.

25 H. Should the Court Sustain the Demurrer, Plaintiff Should Be Granted Leave To 26 Amend.

27 A demurrer should be sustained without leave to amend only if there is no reasonable possibility 28 the complaint can be cured by amendment. (Levy v. Nelson (2000) 83 Cal.App.4th 1061, 1063.) Even

1 if a demurrer is sustained, leave to amend the complaint is routinely granted. Courts are very liberal in 2 permitting amendments, not only where a complaint is defective in form, but also where substantive 3 defects are apparent: “Liberality in permitting amendment is the rule, if a fair opportunity to correct any 4 defect has not been given.” (Angie M. v. Sup.Ct. (Hiemstra) (1995) 37 Cal.App.4th 1217, 1227; Stevens
5 v. Sup.Ct. (API Ins. Services, Inc.) (1999) 75 Cal.App.4th 594, 601.)

6 “Unless the complaint shows on its face that it is incapable of amendment, denial of leave to 7 amend constitutes an abuse of discretion, irrespective of whether leave to amend is requested or not.”
8 (McDonald v. Sup.Ct. (Flintkote Co.) (1986) 180 Cal.App.3d 297, 303-304; Tarrar Enterprises, Inc. v.
9 Associated Indemnity Corp. (2022) 83 Cal.App.5th 685, 688-689 (citing text); Eghtesad v. State Farm 10 Gen. Ins. Co. (2020) 51 Cal.App.5th 406, 411-412 (citing text); see also City of Stockton v. Sup.Ct.
11 (Civic Partners Stockton, LLC) (2007) 42 Cal.4th 730, 747 (“leave to amend is liberally allowed as a 12 matter of fairness, unless the complaint shows on its face that it is incapable of amendment”).

13 It is an abuse of discretion for the court to deny leave to amend where there is any reasonable 14 possibility that plaintiff can state a good cause of action. (Goodman v. Kennedy (1976) 18 Cal.3d 335, 15 349, Bounds v. Sup.Ct. (KMA Group) (2014) 229 Cal.App.4th 468, 484 (citing text) (court should grant 16 leave to amend if in all probability plaintiff will cure defect); Amy’s Kitchen, Inc. v. Fireman’s Fund Ins.
17 Co. (2022) 83 Cal.App.5th 1062, 1073.)

18 Should the Court sustain the Demurrer, Plaintiff should be granted leave to amend.

19 IV. CONCLUSION

20 Wherefore, Plaintiff requests that the Court overrule the Demurrer in its entirety.
